THE STORY

Welcome to Revachol, Officer Harrier.

A grey rain falls on Martinaise. The city soaks in it, cold and dripping. Waves beat against the concrete breakers.

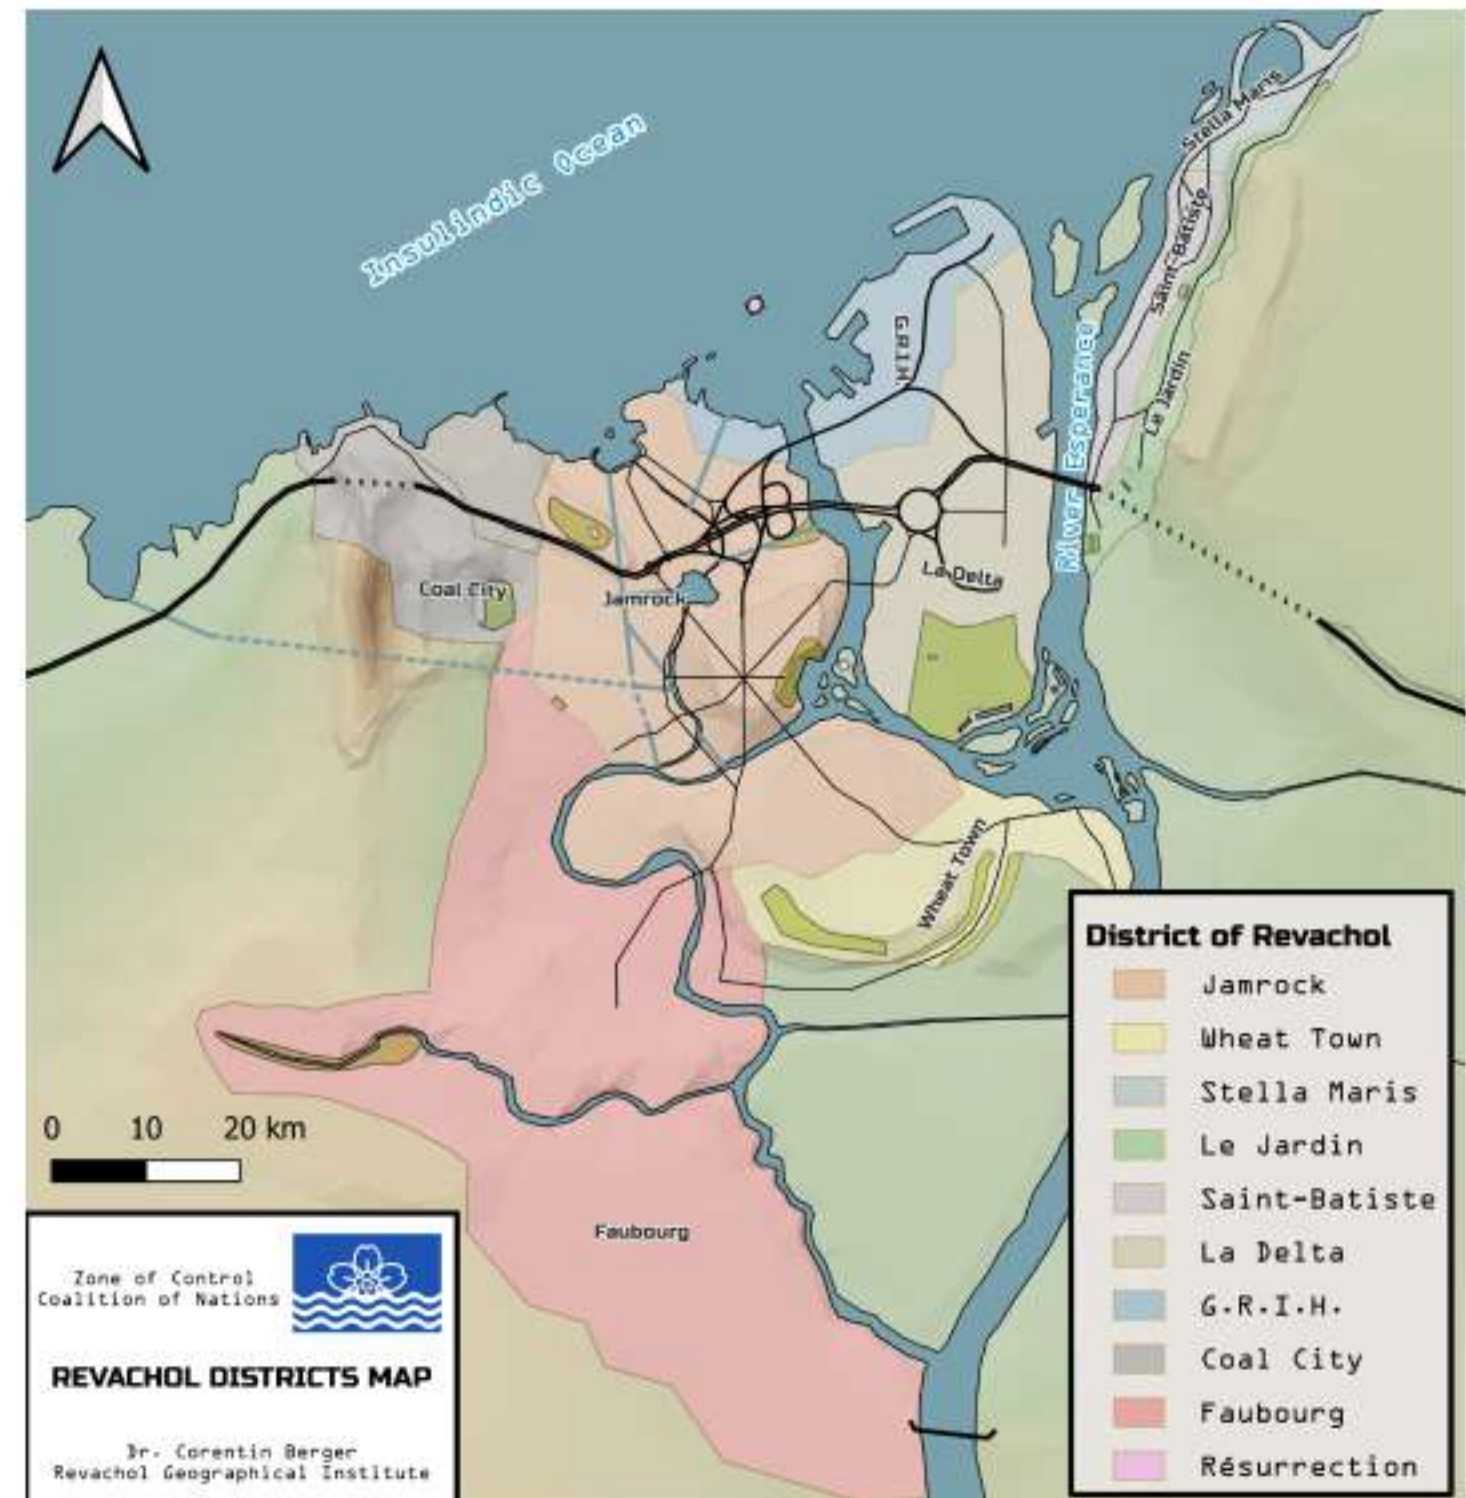

You came here for a case. At least, that is what your badge tells you.

Somewhere in the middle of this mess stands the Whirling-in-Rags. An establishment, if you are feeling generous. A hole in the world, if you are not. Inside, someone is waiting for you. Or something.

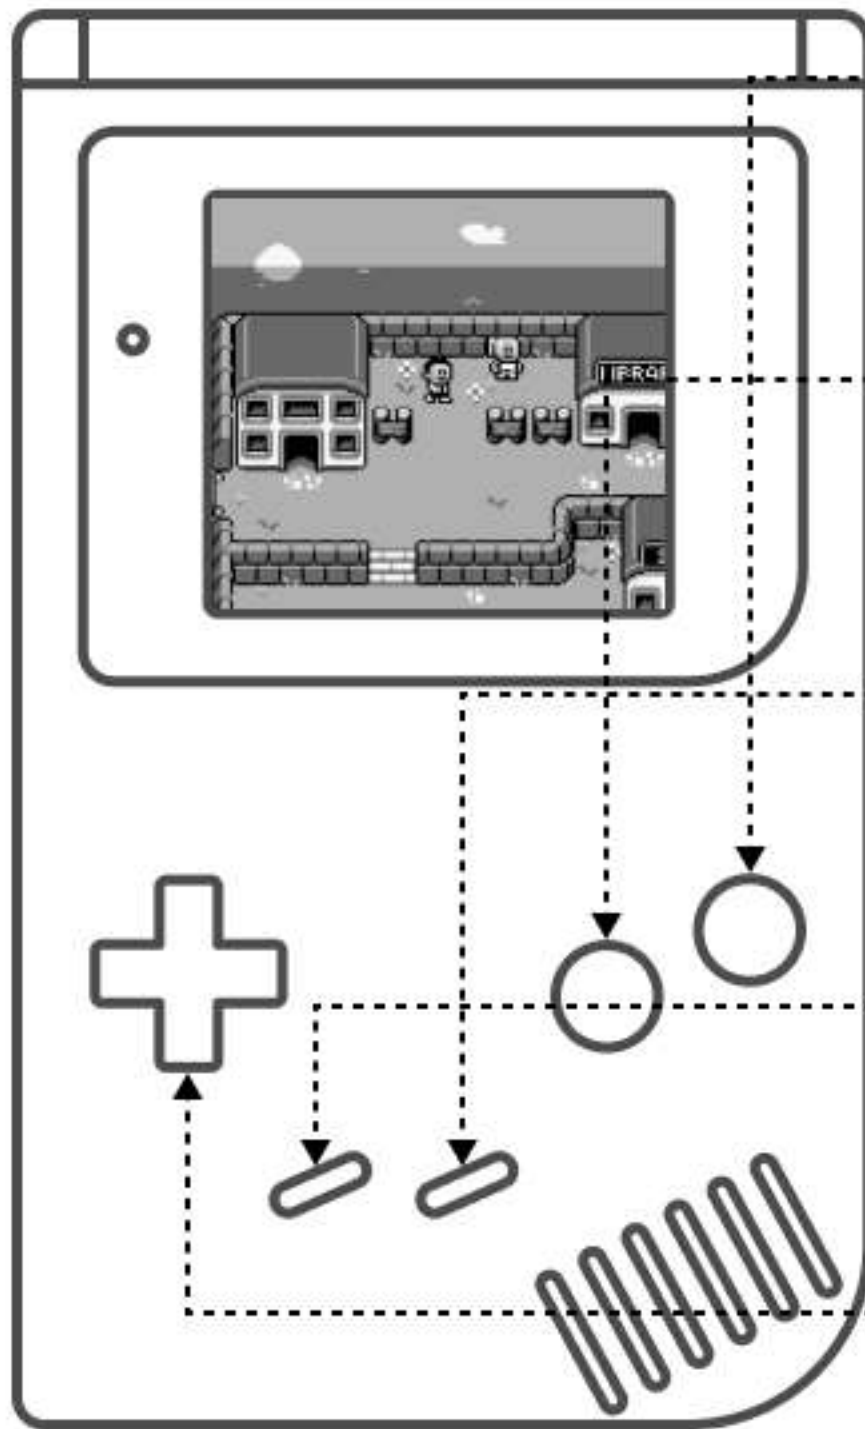

Your head will tell you what to do. Your gut will tell you to do the opposite. As for the rest... well. We shall see which voices you decide to listen to.

The RCM needs you, Officer. Martinaise would probably have preferred you stayed in bed.

Be careful. The tension in the streets is palpable, and a bullet gets lost easily. Try to remember that..
